Massey University School of Aviation, the Royal Aeronautical Society, New Zealand Division, and the Aviation Industry Association of New Zealand have great pleasure in announcing the second Aviation Education and Research Symposium on 28-29 July 2010, in Palmerston North, New Zealand.

This event is intended as a forum for disseminating research and discussing current issues in aviation, with an emphasis on bridging theory and practice. It will also present an opportunity for "a meeting of the minds" for academics and practitioners in the aviation industry.

We invite papers for presentation at the conference addressing issues of relevance to the aviation industry including safety, security, environment, technology applications, management, economics and finance.

Kindly submit abstracts or papers as early as possible. Submissions will be peer reviewed by Massey University, and selected speakers will be advised as expeditiously as practicable.
